Rojales is a typical agricultural Spanish village with the River Segura running through the centre of town. The town actually covers quite a large area with many popular residential urbanisations surrounding the town centre. The residential area is very attractive with pretty gardens and swimming pools. The region is located just inland from the coastal area of Guardamar del Segura on the southern Costa Blanca. The nearby cave houses are great places to explore with their local art displays and there is a house with millions of shells on the inside and outside; a lifetime's labour of love by its owner. The river Segura runs through the centre of Rojales, it's a lovely place to while away a few hours in the evening, where you can mingle with locals who enjoy 'alfresco' (sitting outside with friends) during the warm summer evenings.

In the centre of town there are a variety of shops and restaurants, there is a very pretty church, a local museum and a lovely village square where you can sit and watch the world go by.
